RARE --- 1802 HALF DIME

863. 1802 Half Dime. This is one of the rarest of all the United States silver coins. In describing this coin, I can find no better description than that given by W. Elliott Woodward, in his catalogue of the Burton Sale in 1881. Mr. Woodward's description was as follows: "This piece is very slightly indented, but for which circumstance it could be only fairly described as fine. The bust shows but little evidence of wear; the hair is only a trifle worn, but has two or three little nicks. Liberty is fine and distinct; the date bold; the stars facing well struck up and prominent, those back of head all distinct, but not so well struck. The reverse about as good as the obverse. The eagle very good; lines on the shield, feathers on the wing, perfectly distinct, as are clouds and nearly all the stars. Every letter in the legend plain. Most desirable." There is little that can be added to this description except that the coin is strictly very good. This piece was first known in the Smith Cabinet, which was sold in 1880, at which time it brought $95.00. Was purchased by Scott & Co. in 1883, from the Britton Collection for $115.00. Coin was purchased by the present owner in 1925 for $275.00. While there is no limitation on this coin, it is well worth and should bring, at least, this amount. A short description of this coin is given in Harold P. Newlin's "Book on the Early Half Dimes of the United States." No unlimited bids will be accepted on this lot.
